Red Cross Volunteer - Ms. Petra Yahn

For more than a decade, Petra has been the unmistakable “face of the Red Cross” on our Basic Combat Training campus. Every week she briefs of new Soldiers on Red Cross emergency messaging, ensuring they—and their families—know exactly how to reach one another in times of crisis. She attends every BCT graduation and each naturalization ceremony, personally congratulating trainees who become American citizens. When holiday block leave left dozens of Soldiers staying back without family, Petra organized a trip to an Oklahoma City Thunder game—complete with a jumbotron salute—turning what could have been a lonely night into a memory they’ll keep for life.

Last year, when the Red Cross faced a staffing shortfall, Petra seamlessly stepped into a full-time paid position while still leading multiple volunteer programs. Drill Sergeants, brigade command teams, and even Major General Brooks greet her by name because her reputation for selfless service precedes her at every formation, ceremony, and briefing.

Petra, your tireless dedication embodies the Army value of selfless service and the Red Cross mission of alleviating human suffering. Fort Sill is stronger, more connected, and decidedly more caring because of you.

Ladies and gentlemen, please join me in applauding Ms. Petra Yahn and in thanking her for being a steadfast guardian of our Soldiers and their families.

BRIGADE SPOTLIGHT

Directorate of Public Works Team is recognized for their exceptional response to the flooding event from 28 April – 2 May 2025. The DPW team's proactive and sustained efforts, working around the clock, were instrumental in mitigating the impact of the flooding on Fort Sill. Their rapid actions directly contributed to a reduction in lost work hours and ensured the continued support and well-being of our Army families. These 15 dedicated team members worked around the clock, making sure critical facilities were restored quickly, minimizing disruption to missions across post. Thank you all, your efforts exemplify the strength of teamwork and the spirit of service.

Please join me in thanking this team for their efforts along with COL Baird and CSM Pearson.

WARRIOR ADVENTURE QUEST

Purpose: To facilitate the connection between the challenges of participation in a high adventure activity and the challenges of Soldier transition after deployment, the recommendation of the IPT was to combine high adrenaline outdoor recreation (ODR) activities with the Army Medical Department (AMEDD) psychological resiliency building program. Their Leader-led after-action debriefing (L-LAAD) techniques were fashioned to create such a connection and assist Soldiers in realizing a “new normal”.

- Any Army Unit is eligible for WAQ once per every 12 months, regardless of deployment status.
- Army National Guard and Reserve are considered Army Units and therefore eligible, while under Title 10 status.
- If you would like your unit to participate in a WAQ event, please contact Brianna Wilcox at 580-951-8257, Sarah Rucker at 580-442-7066, or Lauren Santoyo at 520-714-9752

PCS Season—Getting Prepared

- 30-Day Notice is Key: Remember that you need to give Corvias at least 30 days' notice before you move out to avoid any late notice fees.
- Short Notice Orders: If you receive your official orders less than 30 days before your departure, ensure they are delivered to Corvias within 5 days of receiving them. This will help you avoid those late notice charges.
- Don't Wait for Orders to Give Notice: You don't need your official PCS orders to submit your Notice to Vacate. If you have a good idea of when you'll be moving, it's a good idea to contact Corvias. They can help you create a move-out timeline.

- Schedule a Pre-Inspection: This is a very helpful step! Contact Corvias to schedule a pre-inspection of your home. This walk-through will help identify any potential damages, some minor repairs you can do yourself to avoid charges later. Plus, it helps Corvias understand which homes might need more time to get ready for the next service member.
